Why CCR?

- In October 1993, the President issued a memorandum that mandated the Government reform its acquisition processes. Subsequently, the Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act (FASA) of 1994 was passed, requiring the establishment of a "single face to industry."

- CCR was created to be the single repository of vendor data for the entire DoD to avoid administrative duplication and allow contractors to take responsibility for the accuracy of their own important business information by supplying it directly to the government through a single registration.

- According to the DFARS 204.7302, after May 31, 1998, prospective vendors must be registered in CCR prior to the award of a contract; basic agreement, basic ordering agreement, or blanket purchase agreement.

Exceptions to the CCR Requirement

- Purchase Card (amounts below the micro-purchase threshold of 2500-100K)
- Awards made to foreign vendors for work performed outside the United States, if it is impractical to obtain CCR registration
- Contracts awarded by deployed contracting officers in the course of military operations, including but not limited to contingency operations as defined in 10 U.S.C. 101(a)(13), or contracts awarded by contracting officers in the conduct of emergency operations, such as responses to natural disasters or national or civil emergencies
- Purchases to support unusual and compelling needs of the type described in FAR 6.302-2

Contracting Officer's Responsibility

- According to DFARS after May 31, 1998, prospective contractors must be registered in CCR prior to the award of a contract, basic agreement, basic ordering agreement, or blanket purchase agreement.

- It is the contracting officer's responsibility to verify that a contractor is actively registered in CCR prior to granting them an award.
